Sales and use tax exemption expires for clean alternative fuel, electric and plug-in hybrids

The sales and use tax exemption for clean alternative fuel, electric, and plug-in hybrid vehicles expires June 1, 2018. The last day to use this exemption is May 31, 2018. This means you must take delivery of the vehicle by May 31, 2018 to claim the exemption.

If you're already using the exemption, you will continue to receive it based on the date range that applies to your situation (see our website link below for date range information).

How does this affect me?

If you are planning to purchase or lease a qualifying vehicle, you must complete the sale or lease before June 1, 2018 to be eligible for the sales/use tax exemption. This means you must take delivery of the vehicle by May 31, 2018.

If you enter into a vehicle contract with delivery on or after June 1, 2018, you will not qualify for the exemption.
